Торговые весы UC Evo Max Line

red dot design 2012

The UC-HTT-M counter scale from METTLER TOLEDO's UC Evo Line has won a Red Dot Award in the Product Design category. This internationally coveted award attests to the outstanding quality of the UC Evo Line's aesthetic and functional design.

Impressive information

Whether providing information on hygiene, keeping staff informed of new regulatory policies, giving expert advice on recipes, or providing information about ingredients and their origin: the touchscreen is the perfect platform for innovative employee training and valuable tips during the sales process.

Best visibility and legibility

The scene is set perfectly for visual sales promotion, with no obstacles to visibility: with the Flexible Scale Display System, the screen tilt angle and height can be individually adjusted to suit your sales area - including counter height and cash drawers. Information and advertising are most effective when they reach the customer.

Sustainable Technology

Sustainability touches all aspects of our business from designing and producing our products, to selling and delivering them to our customers, to handling them at the end of their lifecycle.
